REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

Claims 8-18 are allowed. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Regarding claim 1, the prior art does not suggest the center conductor and insulator assembly as claimed, including the combination of all the claimed elements, the combination including the front portion having the greater diameter than the shaft portion, the taper on the axial channel as claimed, and the center conductor including the front end extending from the axial channel beyond the front portion as claimed. Regarding claims 9, the prior art does not suggest the insulator as claimed, including the combination of all the claimed elements, the combination including the front portion having the greater diameter than the shaft portion, the taper on the axial channel as claimed and the circular ledge extending into the axial channel as claimed. Regarding claim 11, the prior art does not suggest the front shell assembly as claimed, including the combination of all the claimed elements, the combination including the second end of the insulator extending from the rear end of the front shell, the taper on the insulator, and the first end of the center conductor extending from the first end of the insulator as claimed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
